December birthdays

Having a birthday at Christmas, it's too close to Christmas, but it does mean you get a better selection of toys in the shops. Both Andrew Lawler and Kathryn Hipkin have December birthdays. I hope you get what you wish for.

Mind you Andrew's only got cars and choo-choos on his mind at the moment.

That's all folks

Another two page newsletter this month, due to Christmas Magazine, a certain little mans birthday, Christmas and all that jazz. December is one heck of a busy month.

See you in the New Year and stay safe over the Christmas period.

Latest:

- Billy won't be returning for the third season of Doctor Who. I can't remember mentioning that, so I thought I would now.
- Doctor Who is on at 7pm, Christmas Day on BBC1 for 1 hour. Then we'll have to wait until next year.

It's Chissstmas!!!

Ho! Ho! Ho!

It's a funny old Christmas. We've got new Doctor Who and the Two Ronnies ; sadly Ronnie Barkers last. We've got the Rubiks cube and Daleks in the shops, even Furbies have attempted a return.

On the music front Take That are attempting to return; minus Robbie and Blondie are back... again, with their greatest hits.

It feels like a good old British Christmas from mixed eras throughout the past 30 years or so.

I do hope you all have a jolly good Christmas to you and your entire family. We hope to see you all at the various meetings throughout next year, so have a great Xmas and New Year.

Whole New Gamma Quadrant

We got the Christmas issue to the printers before the meeting but unfortunately they haven't had chance to print it for the Newcastle meet. But we will get it before the Darlington one. So we'll pass some on before then.

The next planned issue will be out in March.
